

ADULT PROGRAMMING: GETTING STARTED

ASK QUESTIONS ABOUT YOUR COMMUNITY.

- What types of cultural events are already happening?
- What are your community's demographics (ages, ethnicities, family structures)?
- What are the seasonal populations, if any?
- What types of activities are popular in your community (or elsewhere)?

KEEP ON TOP OF LOCAL DEMOGRAPHICS AND NATIONAL TRENDS.

- By 2030, 21% of the U.S. population will be 73 or older.
- In 2021, approximately 11% of adults age 65 or older had Alzheimer's dementia.
- In 2021, 4 in 10 Americans identified with an ethnicity other than white.
- In 2018, 26% of U.S. adults had some type of functional disability.
- Health literacy and financial literacy are popular current trends in public libraries.

SCHEDULE AROUND WHAT IS ALREADY HAPPENING.

- Check community calendars and events before scheduling programs.
- Keep seasonal activities in mind.
- Poll your patrons! And allow for trial and error.
- Family programs work best when children are out of school.

PLAN PROGRAMS TO MEET LIBRARY GOALS AND COMMUNITY NEEDS.

- What library goal does this program satisfy? Who does it serve and why?
- What are some potential partnerships?
- Leverage community experts.
- Solicit participant feedback before, during, and after each program.

TYPES OF PROGRAMS TO CONSIDER

- Activity programs such as yoga and Zumba.
- Digital literacy programs: Help older adults navigate technology (both beginner and advanced); decrease risk of identity theft and online fraud; keep brains engaged.
- Arts and crafts programs: Relieve stress and lower blood pressure; increase focus, creativity, and social bonds. Adults need fun and play too!
- Skill share programs: Leverage community experts, give participants opportunities to both learn and teach, connect disparate community groups.
- Health literacy programs: Help people navigate mental health and emotional wellness, chronic conditions, and aging.
- Financial literacy programs: Provide tools for youth, first-time home buyers, and/or retirement planning.
- Cultural programs: Build on community offerings; support local artists.

INCLUSION CHECKLIST FOR LIBRARY PROGRAMS AND SERVICES

Ideally, all staff should have equity, diversity, and inclusion training. Check out Project READY and Project ENABLE (see Resources) for free online training geared to librarians and library administrators.

Always seek insight and feedback from members of the community/staff with lived experiences.

RACE/ETHNICITY

- Feature books and resources including diverse representations of race/ethnicity. Characters should not necessarily focus on specific historical events or moments of struggle.
- Avoid materials with characters portraying the “white savior” trope or materials where BIPOC are treated as “sidekicks” or represented in offensive, clichéd ways.
- Marketing materials should feature youth from diverse backgrounds/ethnicities without reinforcing cultural stereotypes.
- Art supplies/toys should include multiple skin tone options and representations.
- Include characteristics representing different cultures and lived experiences from BIPOC at events.
- Pay special attention to the pronunciation of names. Do not make up nicknames or shorten names to make them “easier” to remember.
- Be cognizant of the various implicit and/or unconscious biases, including affinity bias, when it comes to racial and ethnic diversity.
- Bring in presenters of all abilities that are culturally diverse.
- Think about your own racial and ethnic identity and engage in self-work before brainstorming and reviewing content for library programs.
- Create a team of colleagues to proofread ideas for content and programs through an inclusive lens.

GENDER/SEXUALITY

- Include books and resources that present a wide range of gender norms.
- Avoid programming that caters to specific gender stereotyping.
- Avoid separating groups by gender.
- Use gender-neutral language when presenting ideas and information.
- Ask program presenters/participants if they have preferred pronouns.
- Consider using gender neutral terms like “they” or “them” when referring to animal characters.
- When children present stereotypes in their own stories or in response to a question, use the moment as a learning opportunity.

ACCESSIBILITY

- Language is always evolving. Be aware of current disability language when developing content for programs/services. (See style guide from NCDJ in Resources.)
- Always ask participants/speakers/staff with disabilities if they prefer person-first (i.e., person with autism) or identity-first (autistic person) language when describing themselves, and never correct their preference.
- Always presume competence of people of all abilities.

- Site should be accessible, including accessible parking, paths, restrooms, and clearly identifiable wayfinding.
- Provide programming materials in a variety of formats, in addition to print, including audio, large print, e-format (which has many accessibility options!), and high-contrast/tactile literacy.
- Include books and resources representing people with disabilities and also written by people with a lived disability experience.
- Consider providing a social narrative (or Social Story) to help people of all ages and abilities prepare for a visit or specific program that is new to them (especially helpful for the neurodivergent community, people with PTSD, and dementia).
- Provide a visual schedule during programs and allow time for processing before transitioning to the next activity.
- Avoid visual clutter (in backgrounds and printed materials).
- Dim bright lights or cover fluorescent lighting with filters and provide noise-canceling headphones in case of sensory overwhelm.
- Use a microphone when possible.
- Recorded and live virtual programs need to have captioning.
- Provide adaptive alternatives (movement or art supplies) for participants with physical disabilities.
- If possible, identify a quiet space or room with some sensory calming devices for patrons experiencing sensory overwhelm. Devices can include items for sensory seekers (e.g., fidgets, weighted lap pads) and sensory avoiders (e.g., pop-up tents, headphones).
- Avoid flashing lights, loud content, or sudden movements, or provide warning in advance.
- Provide different seating options that allow space for wheelchairs, walkers, and/or strollers.
- If providing food items, avoid items with common allergens (e.g., nuts, gluten, dairy), and list food items in advance. Provide alternatives.
- Provide concise instructions in multiple formats (i.e., visuals, demonstration, video, and written). Consider combining written with visual instructions.
- Provide verbal description of visuals, illustrations, and speakers.
- Consider providing tactile manipulatives and other sensory tools to engage the senses.
- Allow time for participants to look at you and a sign language interpreter.
- All marketing should include an accommodations statement. Also consider providing some accommodations in advance so someone does not need to make a request.

BEST PRACTICES: OUTREACH TO SPANISH-SPEAKING COMMUNITIES

STEP 1: RESEARCH LOCAL DEMOGRAPHICS

- The Latino community in the U.S. is young, large, and diverse. First-generation immigrants may come from any of 21 Spanish-speaking countries, not only Mexico or the Northern Triangle (Guatemala, Honduras, and El Salvador).
- Start with local schools, city and regional governments, and state data centers. American Fact Finder or the Pew Research Center are good national sources.

STEP 2: ESTABLISH A PRESENCE OUTSIDE THE LIBRARY

- Outreach is critical to building awareness of library programs.
- Consider local nonprofits, community centers, ESL classes at local churches, parks, businesses, grocery stores, restaurants owned by Spanish-speakers, daycares, health care providers, free lunch sites, etc.
- Connect with organizations already working with these communities, such as schools and health organizations. Relationship-building is key.
- Engage with city-sponsored events and parties.
- Invite partners to host events at your library for parents (and provide food).

STEP 3: IDENTIFY SERVICE GAPS

- Identify community leaders and reach out to them.
- Conduct interviews with community leaders.
- Consider setting up a Latino advisory committee that meets a few times per year.

STEP 4: ADVERTISE PROGRAMS

- Translate fliers into Spanish.
- Identify local Spanish-language media or radio stations.
- Send a Spanish-language email newsletter that features library events.
- Invite patrons to share their cultures!

STEP 5: KEEP IT GOING

- Outreach is circular, not linear. Be consistent to develop that critical element of trust.
- Word of mouth is important!
- Be patient. Relationship-building is marketing, but it is a long-term process.

COMMUNITY CARE KITS

AGES

Teens 13–18

Adults

Multigenerational

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Bring patrons together to make care kits for community members in need! The first step in this program is outreach. Reach out to relevant organizations—such as those that serve people without homes or domestic violence survivors—and ask them what they need and how you can help. Once you have a list of the most useful care kit items for individuals in these populations, ask patrons to sponsor kits financially, or you can have sign-ups for individuals to bring multiples of pre-selected items (on a given day or before the event). Then make care kit assembly a fun community event! Play music and run ice-breakers. If appropriate, you could even take a field trip or ask for volunteers to pick up supplies or distribute the kits to your target population. Suggested runtime: 60–90 minutes.

Image source: Azita Frattarelli of Riverview Veterans Memorial Library, Riverview, MI

MATERIALS AND PREPARATION

Example care kit ideas for people without homes:

- Clothes such as socks, gloves, and hats;
- Hygiene items such as soap, shampoo, lotion, menstrual products, razors and shaving cream, tissue packs, bandages, wet wipes, toothbrushes and toothpaste, and sunscreen;
- Food and drink, such as water bottles, hydration tablets, snack packs, granola bars, dried fruit, crackers, peanut butter, and cans of food with pull tabs.
- Miscellany such as plastic bags, utensils, etc.

UNIQUE SPACE AND/OR PERSONNEL NEEDS

You will need space to collect and store donations.

TIP:

Consider enlisting teens to help organize and sustain recurring events.

TIP:

Consider the following: Nursing homes, hospitals, food pantries, soup kitchens, animal shelters, recovery centers, immigrant welcome centers, etc..

ADAPTATION:

Build a mini food pantry. Ask a local carpenter or craftsman to teach teens building basics; they can build the pantry together during the program. Teens can then decorate/paint the pantry, organize a food drive to fill it up, and spread the word over social media.

ADAPTATION:

Patrons make bed rolls using plastic bags and 10-mm crochet hooks. Works for children as young as 5 (who can prepare the plastic yarn).

TIP:

This is not a comprehensive list. Be sure to check in with your community organization of choice before you gather supplies.

DISABILITY CULTURE BOOK CLUB

AGES

Teens 13–18

Adults

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Did you know that one in four adults in the United States has one or more functional disabilities? That is 25% of the adult population! But what does that mean, exactly? Disability is often misunderstood as applying only to people in wheelchairs. In fact, many disabilities are invisible or do not relate primarily to mobility, such as people who are neurodivergent or have a chronic illness. Unfortunately, many people with disabilities feel more thwarted by ableism in society than by disability itself. How can libraries help? By starting a book club that helps people to think about disability differently! Even posting a list of book suggestions in your library would go a long way towards making disabled patrons in your communities feel seen and supported. Suggested runtime: 90 minutes.

MATERIALS AND PREPARATION

Start with outreach to your community. Ask people for their input on what kinds of topics/books they would like to explore. Once you choose a theme, invite outside speakers who can offer insights or different perspectives on disability. See Printables for possible discussion questions.

A note on language: People-first language has been emphasized in the past (e.g., person with disability vs. disabled person). However, many people with disabilities feel that person-first language is ableist in its minimization of their lived experience. The best practice is to ask people how they would like to be referred to, and never correct how anyone self-identifies.

GROW, EVOLVE, TRANSFORM: COLLABORATIVE ORIGAMI DISPLAY

AGES

Adults

Multigenerational

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

This is an ideal passive program for adults! Folding origami is relaxing and a great conversation starter for those waiting for children participating in other library programs. The butterfly pattern is easy to master; once learned, butterflies can be made in under three minutes. Patrons attach their finished butterflies to a wall or bulletin board to make a beautiful collaborative display. The butterflies can be the focus of the display or an embellishment. Use the inspirational phrase “Grow. Evolve. Transform.” or select another phrase with meaning in your community. Suggested runtime for an in-person program: Passive.

MATERIALS AND PREPARATION

Materials:

- 6 x 6-inch origami paper in rainbow colors (on both sides)
- Glue dots, tape, or staples to hang butterflies
- Printed instructions that links to a YouTube video
- Bulletin board or wall space, decorated as desired

Preparation: Prepare your bulletin board or wall space. Consider covering your bulletin board with a color that complements the color of the origami paper. Add an inspirational slogan and whatever images will enhance the display (such as an open book from which paper butterflies can emerge). Alternatively, reach out to a community organization to which you can donate the completed butterflies. Stock a station with origami paper, instructions, and a bin for participants to leave their completed butterflies (or tape or glue dots for them to hang their own).

UNIQUE SPACE AND/OR PERSONNEL NEEDS

Solo-librarian friendly. If running an in-person program for all ages, additional staff members or volunteers could help teach

ADAPTATION:

Include origami paper and instructions in take-and-make kits, with a link to a YouTube video for those who need visual instructions. Remember the due date if you want patrons to return their butterflies for a collaborative display!

ADAPTATION:

Also consider outreach to a community organization or facility to which you can donate the butterflies.

ADAPTATION:

Enlist tween/teen volunteers to cut pages out of old books for use as origami paper.

TIP:

For more ideas, see the Community Art Projects Brainstorm on page 76.

TIP:

Provide different sizes of origami paper. The smaller the paper, the more difficult it will be to fold.

GAME/ACTIVITY

PUZZLE PANDEMONIUM

AGES

Adults
Multigenerational

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Families or small groups of adults (three–five) compete to see who can assemble the same 200- or 250-piece puzzle the fastest. Most groups can complete a puzzle this size in about one hour. Puzzles are relaxing and facilitate great conversations for all ages. Add extra challenges to increase difficulty, such as requiring groups to switch to another group’s puzzle halfway through. Give prizes to the winning teams/families. Use packing tape to save unfinished puzzles, which patrons can finish later if they wish. Suggested runtime: 2–3 hours for 500-piece puzzles; 4–5 hours for 1,000-piece puzzles.

TIP:

Providing the same puzzle to each group is important to prevent perceptions of unfairness. However, if you place less emphasis on competition (and do not give out prizes), different puzzle designs could add to the fun.

TIP:

If no group finishes, weigh the completed portions or count leftover pieces.

ADAPTATION:

For children, provide puzzles with fewer pieces. For seniors, provide puzzles with large pieces.

ADAPTATION:

Provide blank puzzle templates (and cardstock of the same size). Participants make their own puzzles by gluing their drawings onto cardstock and cutting out the pieces.

TIP:

Program registration is essential for knowing how many puzzles to purchase.

TIP:

If you solicit donated puzzles, count the pieces to ensure none are missing.

SELF-CARE BATH BOMBS & SUGAR SCRUB

AGE

Tweens 9–12

Teens 13–18

Adults

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Patrons make fun DIY bath products and personalize containers. Great for a self-care theme, or encourage participants to give them as gifts. The bath bombs are made up in a single batch, while participants mix their own sugar scrubs. This program works well for tweens and up, and can be adapted for children. Suggested runtime: 45–60 minutes.

Image source: Jennifer Bishop of East Bank Regional Library, Metairie, LA

MATERIALS AND PREPARATION

Bath Bombs

Materials (makes 12–18):

- 1 cup baking soda (sodium bicarbonate)
- ½ cup Epsom salt
- ½ cup corn starch
- ½ cup citric acid
- 2½ tbsp vegetable oil
- About 1 tbsp water
- About 20 drops essential oils
- 4–6 drops food coloring
- One large bowl and one small bowl
- One whisk
- Small spoons
- 12–18 paper cups (3-oz capacity)

Procedure:

- Whisk dry ingredients in the large bowl until clumps are removed.
- Whisk wet ingredients in the small bowl. Add food coloring and essential oils.
- Add wet ingredients to the dry by whisking in 1 tbsp at a time. If the mixture begins to fizz, slow down. The resulting mixture should be the consistency of wet sand.
- Divide mixture into small paper cups, pressing firmly.
- Let dry completely (up to 24 hours) before using.
- When ready to use, tear off the paper cup and drop the bath bomb in water. Watch it fizz!

ADAPTATION:

For children, premeasure sugar scrub ingredients so they can focus on decorating their jars.

TIP:

Essential oils can cause allergic reactions, so make sure to mention in any publicity that essential oils are involved.

TIP:

Bath bombs can also be added to small containers with warm water for a hand/foot soak.

STEM | GAME/ACTIVITY

While making these, you can talk about the science behind the fizz. It is all about pH levels! The baking soda has a high pH level. When combined with citric acid, which has a low pH level, they react to create carbon dioxide gas, which creates bubbles. (The reaction is similar to mixing baking soda and vinegar for homemade volcanos.) You can also discuss the importance of self-care and let children sniff different essential oils for some in-library aromatherapy.

Sugar Scrub

Materials (per jar):

- ½ cup coffee
- ½ cup sugar
- ½ cup coconut oil
- 1 tsp cinnamon
- Jars and craft sticks
- Measuring cups and spoons
- Microwave to soften coconut oil
- Art supplies for decorating the jars
- Condiment cups (for take-and-make kits)

Procedure: Be sure to make an example. Before an in-person event, set up stations with prepped ingredients. Give each participant a recipe and a jar, and have them measure out their ingredients. Then guide them in putting it together. Step 1: Add dry ingredients together. Step 2: Soften the coconut oil, then add it. Step 3: Stir the mixture with a craft stick. Step 4: Decorate the jar.

UNIQUE SPACE AND PERSONNEL NEEDS

Cover work tables for easier cleanup. For younger tweens, additional staff members or volunteers may be helpful.
