

Brief Biography

Alicia Donjoo Bang is a professional Korean storyteller and published author that uses her educational background to effectively convey storytelling techniques to persons seeking to improve their storytelling talent. Alicia has been holding workshops throughout eastern Asia since 2016, and has hosted workshops in Europe since 2018.

Workshop description

Alicia's workshops are generally practical by design, so that the attendees can practice and receive effective feedback immediately on the performance materials covered. Source and reference stories are English translations of Korean folktales with a performance length of under ten minutes. Attendees will learn how to better retain audience attentions, effective use of minimalized supporting props, and the use of body language to offset language barriers in play.
